

Name: _____

Date: _____ Class Period: _____

Writing an Alternate Ending

ELAGSE9-10W3: Write narratives to develop real or imagined experiences or events using effective technique, well-chosen details, and well-structured event sequences.

Description of Project: You will write an alternate ending to The Sniper. You have total flexibility as to what happens in your ending. You must use the sniper as the main character (and give him an identity), however, you may introduce new characters, or kill off any old ones you wish. Above all else, your ending has to be creative, believable, and exciting!! Pretend that you want to publish your ending instead. Can readers follow what you are trying to say? Will people be interested in reading it?

The rough draft is to be hand-written in class on Wednesday, August 7th and the typed final draft is due on Friday, August 9th. You may submit the typed hard-copy at the start of class or submit via the submission page on my blog before noon.

Element	Score	Points
Alternate ending is 3 large paragraphs (7-10 sentences each)		20
Ending is creative, believable, and exciting		20
Characters are consistent in their personality		10
Spelling and punctuation have been checked		10
Overall presentation (typed, paragraph form, appropriate sized font, etc.)		10
TOTAL		70

I understand the assignment and discussed the assignment with my parent/guardian.

Student Signature _____

Parent/Guardian Signature _____

Total Mark:                    /100 =                    %

Teacher Feedback: